1.3. Comprehensive, step-by-step description of the method that explains how athletes will go through the selection process to become the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team nominees (include maximum team size).

1.3.1. Maximum of four (4) canoe slalom athletes can qualify for the Olympic Games Tokyo 2020, if all available athlete quota places are qualified at the two Olympic Qualifiers: the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition and the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition:

Table 1: Maximum Available Quota Places for Canoe Slalom Events

	Quota	Events
		Slalom Kayak	Slalom Canoe
Men	2	1 male in Kayak (MK1)	1 male in Canoe (MC1)
Women	2	1 female in Kayak (WK1)	1 female in Canoe (WC1)
Total	4

1.3.2. Overall USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Selection Scoring System:

Individual USA athletes will be ranked according to the highest number of total points accumulated by adding together the two single highest point scores from the following three competitions:

- I. 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships,
- II. 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1, and
- III. 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2.

This ranking will determine the order in which athletes will be nominated for the available quota places on the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team.

In the case of a tie between two or more athletes in an event, if the athlete that qualified the Olympic quota place either at the Global or Continental Qualification Competition is one of the tied athletes, he/she will be nominated for the available quota place on the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team.

If other athletes (none of whom qualified the Olympic quota either at the Global or Continental Qualification Competition) are tied, the athlete with the higher placing final result from the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trial – Competition 2 will be nominated for the available quota place on the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team.

1.3.3. Points awarded to an athlete in one boat event only apply to that boat event and cannot be transferred across events.

1.3.4. Points accrual from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships:

Athletes can accrue points towards a nomination to the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team based on their finish at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships. Points will be awarded according to each athlete’s final race result as follows:

Table 2: Points accrual at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships

MK1, WK1, MC1, and WC1 events: Top 3 overall finish	5 points
MK1, WK1, MC1, and WC1 events: 4 th to 10 th overall finish	4 points
MK1 and WK1 events: 11 th – 20 th place MC1 and WC1 events: 11 th – 15 th place	3 points

Note:

The difference in defined performance criteria between kayak events (MK1 and WK1) and canoe events (MC1 and WC1) in Table 2 stems from sections E.2.2 and E.2.3 of the ICF Canoe Slalom Qualification System – Games of the XXXII Olympiad – Tokyo 2020, where MK1 and WK1 events are allocated 24 = (18 + 5 + 1) athlete quota places each, and events MC1 and WC1 are allocated 17 = (11 + 5 + 1) athlete quota places each.

1.3.5. Point accruals from the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trial – Competitions 1 and 2:

Athletes can accrue points towards a nomination to the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team based on their overall result at each of the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trial Competitions (1 & 2).

Fixed point values will be awarded in each event (MK1, WK1, MC1, WC1) as shown in Table 3:

Table 3: Points accrual at the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trial Competitions (1 & 2)

	2020 Olympic Team Trials – Competition 1	2020 Olympic Team Trials – Competition 2
1 st place	3 points	3 points
2 nd place	2 points	2 points
3 rd place	1 point	1 point
4 th place and lower place	0 points	0 points

1.3.6. Examples of the overall USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Selection Scoring System:

1.3.6.1. Example: Men kayak event (MK1)

Athlete A places 21st at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships for which he accrues 0 points (see Table 2 in section 1.3.4), he places 1st in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which he accrues 3 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 1st in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which he accrues 3 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). In total, he accrues (collects) 6 points as outlined in Table 4. The result from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships is dropped for the Athlete A in Table 4.

Athlete B places 12th at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships for which he accrues 3 points (see Table 2 in section 1.3.4), he places 2nd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which he accrues 2 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 2nd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which he accrues 2 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). Since individual athletes are ranked according to the highest number of total points accumulated by adding together the two single highest point scores from the qualifying competitions (see Section 1.3.2), his score from the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 is dropped. Athlete B accrues (collects) a total of 5 points as outlined in Table 4.

Table 4: MK1 ranking example

MK1 event	2019 World Championships	USA Olympic Trials Competition 1	USA Olympic Trials Competition 2	Total points collected
Athlete A	21 st 0 points	1 st 3 points	1 st 3 points	6 points
Athlete B	12 th 3 points	2 nd 2 points	2 nd 2 points	5 points

In this example, Athlete A would be nominated for the available quota place on the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team.

1.3.6.2. Example: Women canoe event (WC1)

Athlete A places 12th at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships for which she accrues 3 points (see Table 2 in section 1.3.4), she places 1st in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which she accrues 3 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 1st in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which she accrues 3 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). Since individual athletes are ranked according to the highest number of total points accumulated by adding together the two single highest point scores from the qualifying competitions (see Section 1.3.2), her score from 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships is dropped. In total, she accrues (collects) 6 points as outlined in Table 5.

Athlete B places 9th at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships for which she accrues 4 points (see Table 2 in section 1.3.4), she places 2nd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which she accrues 2 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 2nd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which she accrues 2 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). Since individual athletes are ranked according to the highest number of total points accumulated by adding together the two single highest point scores from the qualifying competitions (see Section 1.3.2), her score from the 2020 USA

Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 is dropped. Athlete B accrues (collects) a total of 6 points as outlined in Table 5.

Table 5: WC1 ranking example

WC1 event	2019 World Championships	USA Olympic Trials Competition 1	USA Olympic Trials Competition 2	Total points collected
Athlete A	12 th 3 points	1 st 3 points	1 st 3 points	6 points
Athlete B	9 th 4 points	2 nd 2 points	2 nd 2 points	6 points

This example shows that Athletes A and B tied in total points accrued, however, since Athlete B qualified the quota place for the U.S. at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition, she would be nominated for the available quota place on the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team (Section 1.3.2).

1.3.6.3. Example: Women kayak event (WK1)

Athlete A places 11th at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships for which she accrues 3 points (see Table 2 in section 1.3.4) and qualifies the quota place for the U.S. team. She places 3rd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which she accrues 1 point (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 3rd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which she accrues 1 point (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). Since individual athletes are ranked according to the highest number of total points accumulated by adding together the two single highest point scores from the qualifying competitions (see Section 1.3.2), her score from the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 is dropped. In total, she accrues (collects) 4 points as outlined in Table 6.

Athlete B did not race in the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships. She places 2nd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which she accrues 2 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 1st in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which she accrues 3 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). Athlete B accrues (collects) a total of 5 points as outlined in Table 6.

Athlete C places 21st at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships for which she accrues 0 points (see Table 2 in section 1.3.4), she places 1st in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which she accrues 3 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 2nd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which she accrues 2 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). Athlete C accrues (collects) a total of 5 points as outlined in Table 6.

Table 6: WK1 ranking example

WK1 event	2019 World Championships	USA Olympic Trials Competition 1	USA Olympic Trials Competition 2	Total points collected
Athlete A	11 th 3 points	3 rd 1 point	3 rd 1 point	4 points
Athlete B	DNR	2 nd 2 points	1 st 3 points	5 points
Athlete C	21 st 0 points	1 st 3 points	2 nd 2 points	5 points

In this example, Athlete B would be nominated for the available quota place on the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team because she is the winner of the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 (see section 1.3.2).

1.3.6.4. Example: Men canoe event (MC1)

Athlete A places 16th at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships for which he accrues 0 points (see Table 2 in section 1.3.4), he places 1st in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which he accrues 3 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 2nd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which he accrues 2 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). In total, he accrues (collects) 5 points as outlined in Table 7. Athlete A wins the Continental Qualification Competition and qualifies the Olympic quota place for the U.S. Team.

Athlete B places 17th the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships, he places 2nd in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 1 for which he accrues 2 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5), and 1st in the 2020 USA Olympic Canoe Slalom Team Trials – Competition 2 for which he accrues 3 points (see Table 3 in section 1.3.5). Athlete B accrues (collects) a total of 5 points as outlined in Table 7.

Table 7: MC1 ranking example

MC1 event	2019 World Championships	USA Olympic Trials Competition 1	USA Olympic Trials Competition 2	Total points collected
Athlete A	16 th 0 points	1 st 3 points	2 nd 2 points	5 points
Athlete B	17 th 0 points	2 nd 2 points	1 st 3 points	5 points

Because Athlete A qualified the quota place for the U.S. at the Continental Qualification Competition, he would be nominated for the available quota place on the 2020 U.S. Olympic Team (Section 1.3.2).

1.4. Method of selecting the event in the situation where one athlete preliminarily qualifies two quota places at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition – 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championships or at the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition – 2020 Pan American Championships:

According to the ICF Qualification System – Games of the XXXII Olympiad – Tokyo 2020, Sections E.2.4. and E.3.6., an individual may not qualify more than one (1) athlete quota place during the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition (pursuant to E.2.2 or E.2.3) or the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition (pursuant to E.3.3. or E.3.4.). Where an athlete provisionally obtains more than one (1) athlete quota place during the Global World Qualification Competition (or pursuant to E.2.3.), or the Continental Qualification Competition (or pursuant to E.3.4.), the NOC must confirm which one (1) of the athlete quota places they wish to use and return the unused athlete quota place(s) in accordance with Section F of the qualification system (“Confirmation and Return Process for Athlete Quota Places”).

1.4.1. In the case where one U.S. athlete has placed high enough to qualify two (2) athlete quota places at either the Global or Continental Qualification Competition, ACA will rank these two events using the results from the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition – 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championship to determine from which event the athlete quota place will be accepted (i.e., MK1 or MC1; WK1 or WC1).

The event with the U.S. athlete who had the lowest race points awarded at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition – 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championship according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 (to be made available in October 2019 and posted at <https://www.canoeicf.com/canoe-slalom-competitions-results-and-rankings>) will be ranked first and ACA will confirm with the ICF the acceptance of this event’s quota place.

1.4.2 In case of a tie between two eligible events, ACA will rank tied events using the results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) to determine which event’s athlete quota place to accept.

The event with the athlete who had the lowest race points awarded at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 (see link in 1.4.1. above) will be ranked first and ACA will confirm with the ICF the acceptance of this event’s quota place.

1.4.3 In case of a further tie between eligible events, ACA will rank tied events using the results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #4 to determine from which event the athlete quota place will be accepted.

The event with the athlete who had the lowest race points awarded at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #4 according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 (see link in 1.4.1. above) will be ranked first and ACA will confirm with the ICF the acceptance of this event’s quota place.

1.5. Method of ranking the events (boat classes) from the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition – 2020 Pan American Continental Canoe Slalom Championship for the allocation of athlete quota places:

According to the ICF Qualification System – Games of the XXXII Olympiad – Tokyo 2020, Section E.3.5., an NOC can qualify a maximum of two (2) athlete quota places across the four (4) events (men’s & women’s) at the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition. Where an NOC provisionally obtains more than two (2) athlete quota places during the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition, the NOC has to confirm which two (2) athlete quota places they wish to use and return unused athlete quota places by following Section F of the qualification system (“Confirmation and Return Process for Athlete Quota Places”).

This section describes how ACA will determine which events will be selected if not all athlete quota places qualified at the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition can be accepted by the U.S. The following method will only be used to rank events in which the athlete quota places were not qualified at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition.

- 1.5.1. In the case where the U.S. athletes have placed high enough to qualify more than two (2) athlete quota places at the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition (i.e.: 1st place finishes in at least three events - MK1, WK1, MC1, WC1), ACA will rank events using the results from the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition – 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championship to determine from which events the athlete quota places will be accepted.

The event with the U.S. athlete who had the lowest race points awarded at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition – 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championship according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 (to be made available in October 2019 and posted at <https://www.canoeicf.com/canoe-slalom-competitions-results-and-rankings>) will be ranked first. The event with the U.S. athlete who had the second lowest race points awarded at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition – 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Championship according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 will be ranked second, and so on. See Example 1 in 1.5.5.1 below.

- 1.5.2. In case of a tie between eligible events, ACA will rank tied events using the results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) to determine from which event(s) the athlete quota place(s) will be accepted.

The event with the athlete who had the lowest race points awarded at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 will be ranked first. The event with the athlete who had the second lowest race points awarded at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 will be ranked second, and so on. See Example 2 in 1.5.5.2 below.

1.5.3. In case of a further tie between eligible events, ACA will rank these events using the results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #(N - i). In #(N - i), N = 5 is a constant, and i = 1 is a variable that increases by +1 for every ranking iteration until the tie is broken between the eligible tied events, and ACA can determine which two (2) athlete quota places to accept. See Example 3 in 1.5.5.3 below.

1.5.4. The ICF Canoe Slalom Rankings and Points Calculations

The ICF Canoe Slalom Rankings can be found at:

<https://www.canoeicf.com/icf-canoe-slalom-world-ranking>

The ICF Points Calculation Methodology can be found in Appendix 1 of the Canoe Slalom, 2019 – Competition Handbook:

<https://www.canoeicf.com/disciplines/canoe-slalom> (found under “Competitions Information”)

1.5.5. Examples of ranking the events following the 2020 Continental Qualification – Pan American Continental Canoe Slalom Championship:

1.5.5.1. Example 1: Ranking events following the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition to illustrate 1.5.1 above.

Table 8: Ranking events following the Continental Qualification Competition by using results from the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition

Event	MK1	WK1	MC1	WC1
Number of NOCs/NFs to qualify quota places at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition	18	18	11	11
The 2019 Global World Qualification Competition result	19 th	21 st	16 th	13 th
The 2020 Continental Qualification Competition result	1 st	1 st	1 st	1 st
Race points awarded at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition to the best USA athlete	16.08	24.51	27.90	25.63

In this example, the U.S. Team did not qualify any athlete quotas at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition. However, the U.S. athletes placed high enough to qualify more than two (2) athlete quota places at the 2020 Continental Qualification with 1st place finishes in all four Olympic events (MK1, WK1, MC1, and WC1). Based on the results of the 2020 Continental

Qualifications, and the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 in 2019, USA would accept the Olympic quotas in MK1 and WK1 events.

1.5.5.2. Example 2: Ranking events following the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition to illustrate 1.5.2 above.

Table 9: Ranking events following the Continental Qualification Competition by using results from the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition

Event	MK1	WK1	MC1	WC1
Number of NOCs/NFs to qualify quota places at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition	18	18	11	11
The 2019 Global World Qualification Competition result	19 th	21 st	16 th	13 th
The 2020 Continental Qualification Competition result	1 st	1 st	1 st	1 st
Race points awarded at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition to the best USA athlete	16.08	24.51	24.51	25.63

In this example, the U.S. Team did not qualify any athlete quotas at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition. However, the U.S. athletes placed high enough to qualify more than two (2) athlete quota places at the 2020 Continental Qualification – Pan American Continental Championship with 1st place finishes in all four Olympic events MK1, WK1, MC1, and WC1. Based on the results of the Continental Qualifications, and the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 in 2019, USA would accept the Olympic quota in MK1 event.

Since events WK1 and MC1 are tied, ACA will reference the results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) to break the tie between the tied events WK1 and MC1:

Table 10: Ranking events following the Continental Qualification Competition and using results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) to break the events tie

Event	MK1	WK1	MC1	WC1
Race points awarded at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) to the best USA athlete	N/A	18.09	22.12	N/A

Since the best U.S. finish in WK1 event earned lower race points in the ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) competition than the best U.S. finish in MC1 event according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 in 2019, USA would also accept the Olympic quota in WK1 event.

To summarize, in Example 2, USA would accept the Olympic quotas in MK1 and WK1 events.

1.5.5.3. Example 3: Ranking events using the World Cup Series competitions to illustrate 1.5.3 above.

Table 11: Ranking events following the Continental Qualification Competition by using results from the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition

Event	MK1	WK1	MC1	WC1
Number of NOCs/NFs to qualify quota places at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition	18	18	11	11
The 2019 Global World Qualification Competition result	19 th	21 st	16 th	13 th
The 2020 Continental Qualification Competition result	1 st	1 st	1 st	1 st
Race points awarded at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition to the best USA athlete	16.08	24.51	24.51	25.63

In this example, the U.S. Team did not qualify any athlete quotas at the 2019 Global World Qualification Competition. However, the U.S. athletes placed high enough to qualify more than two (2) athlete quota places at the 2020 Continental Qualification Competition with 1st place finishes in all four Olympic events (MK1, WK1, MC1, and WC1). Based on the results of the Continental Qualifications, and the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 in 2019, USA would accept the Olympic quota in MK1 event.

Since events WK1 and MC1 are tied, ACA will reference the results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) to attempt to break the tie between the tied events WK1 and MC1:

Table 12: Ranking events following the Continental Qualification Competition and using results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) to break the events tie

Event	MK1	WK1	MC1	WC1
Race points awarded at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) to the best USA athlete	N/A	18.09	18.09	N/A

Since the best U.S. finish in WK1 and MC1 events earned the same race points in the ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final) competition according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 in 2019, ACA will now reference the results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #4 to attempt to break the tie between the tied events WK1 and MC1. According to the Section 1.5.3: i = 1 because this is the first time that ACA needs to reference the World Cup Series competition prior to the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #5 (Final).

Table 13: Ranking events following the Continental Qualification Competition and using results from the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #4 to break the events tie

Event	MK1	WK1	MC1	WC1
Race points awarded at the 2019 ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #4 to the best USA athlete	N/A	19.11	20.17	N/A

Since the best U.S. finish in WK1 event earned lower race points in the ICF Canoe Slalom World Cup #4 competition than the best U.S. finish in MC1 event according to the ICF Canoe Slalom Ranking - Release #4 in 2019, USA would also accept the Olympic quota in WK1 event.

To summarize, in Example 3, USA would accept the Olympic quotas in MK1 and WK1 events.
